"MAGNIFICENT OBSESSION"

Work on the new railway crossing at Seventh Avenue is progressing, and it is hoped will be opened to traffic some time next week. The work is being done by the town, and the new dump truck has been on the job, and doing good work.

Herbert J. Broley, of Fernie, was recently presented with a bronze medal of the Royal Canadian Humane Society for his action in rescuing R. B. Grant, the pilot, from a burning plane at the Fernie airport on June 6th of last year. He was unable at the time to rescue the mechanic, J. Beckwith, who perished in the wreckage. The presentation address was made by Tom Uphill, M.P.P.

Towns interested will include Fernie, Pincher Creek, Blairmore, Cranbrook, Lethbridge and Macleod. Visiting golfers will be guests of the Fernie Country Club at a dance on Monday evening. ## HILLCREST COUPLE HONORED

Over a hundred and fifty people sat down to a sumptuous repast at the K. of P. hall in Hillcrest on Tuesday evening of last week, to do honor to two respected citizens, Mr. and Mrs. D. Kyle, on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary.

The chairman of the evening, Mr. D. Davies, in a brief address, eulogized the guests of honor.

Rev. J. Wood, in a few well chosen words, then presented Mrs. Kyle with a beautiful silver cake stand, and Mr. Kyle with a silver cigarette case.

Mr. and Mrs. Kyle both expressed their appreciation of the honor accorded them.

A touch of humor was added to the proceedings by a mock wedding, the minister being Mrs. Montegani; the bridegroom, Mrs. McDade; the bride, Mrs. Hamaluk; with little Hazel Rhys carrying the train and the bride presenting the bouquet she carried to Mrs. Kyle.

A social evening followed, solists being Mrs. D. Davies, Mrs. B. Craig, Miss M. Morgan, Mr. B. Williams and Mr. Glyn Rhys. A tap dance was given by Miss B. Carter. The accompanists were Mr. T. Beynon and Mr. H. Rhys.

The evening finished with much merriment and old-time dances. Each guest received a piece of wedding cake before leaving the hall. Arrangements were capably handled by Mesdames D. Brown, J. Norton, F. Balkwill, T. Gates, D. Davies, J. McDade, A. Rhys, M. Hamaluk, E. Montegani and R. Turner.

The Hillcrest Miners' Literary & Athletic Club's annual picnic and carnival will be held on Saturday and Sunday, July 25th and 26th. The picnic grounds will be as last year's, while the carnival will be held in the new Hillcrest recreation hall. The dance will be held in the Union hall. Watch for further particulars and be sure to purchase an admission ticket, which would entitle you to a chance on the big cheslerfield suite.

The fifteenth annual tournament of the Crows' Nest Pass Golf association will be held at the Fernie Country Club, for three days, starting Sunday next, June the 21st. Towns interested will include Fernie, Pincher Creek, Blairmore, Cranbrook, Lethbridge and Macleod. Visiting golfers will be guests of the Fernie Country Club at a dance on Monday evening. ## URGES SUPPORT FOR PROSPERITY CERTIFICATES

Rev. Father R. J. Donovan, pastor of St. John's Roman Catholic church, Hillhurst, Calgary (formerly of Bellevue), appealed to his congregation to support the provincial government's Prosperity Certificate issue. "There is nothing mystical about the plan. Value of bonds is assured; the principle is sound, and it gives the people two years to provide the government with money it direly needs now," he said.

He reminded his congregation that a year ago he had told them the government must take from its people the wealth it spends on their behalf. There were other expedites, but they had lasted only for a while. Alberta borrowed a great deal of its governmental expenditures, but after thirty years the load got so large the principal could never be paid. Indirect taxation took the people's wealth no less than direct taxation. In only added camouflage and hypocrisy to the process of tax collection. At the end of it all, the government had to take from the people the wealth it spent in their service, he continued.

Alberta had reached the end of borrowing and of deficits. It was just as well the end had come now as a few years later. Alberta must face the facts. It was the people's duty to provide the government with the funds necessary to administer the province. Two million Prosperity Certificates would provide the government with that money to spend in the interests of the people.

Two young ladies, who left Toronto some time in April on a hitch-hike trip to the Pacific coast, passed through Blairmore on their eastward journey on Tuesday afternoon. They proposed taking in the Stampede at Calgary before proceeding east. They left Cranbrook Tuesday morning and hoped to reach Calgary that night. On their trip they had travelled by box car, flat car, car roofs, trucks, airplanes and automobiles. Their baggage was so light it could be pocketed.

GARDEN PARTY

The United church Ladies' Aid will hold their Annual Garden Party on Wednesday, June 24, from 3 to 6 o'clock, in the grounds of the Greenhill Apartments.

GOLF! GOLF!

The results of the inter-club matches held here last Sunday were: Lethbridge Golf Club two-ball foursomes 6½, Blairmore Golf & Country Club 3½. In the singles, Lethbridge club 11½, Blairmore 8½. The day was very fine and everyone had a good time.

Blairmore Golf & Country Club are to play a return match on June 28, when, Lethbridge will expect every player from this club to visit them.

In the ladies' nine-hole competition on Saturday last, Miss L. Fraser and Mrs. H. Pinkney drew with a net score of 32; and in the playoff Miss Fraser won.

The next ladies' competition, 18 holes, will be played tomorrow, the 20th. In the mixed foursomes, played on Wednesday, 18 holes, winners were Mrs. J. R. Smith and Dick Large, with the best gross score 91, and Mrs. Kerr and R. F. Barnes with the best net score of 81.

This coming Sunday, Monday and Tuesday will see the Crows' Nest Pass Golf tournament get under way at Fernie. The course is reported in good playing condition, and the Fernie club expects a large turnout from the Pass towns.

FEDERAL GRANT OF $600,000 FOR ROAD LINKS, FOR ALBERTA

Federal grants for highway construction purposes will bring coast outlets all the nearer this year for Alberta tourists. At the same time, it appears that completion of these links is still some distance away.

For work on the Big Bend, highway section of the Trans-Canada between Golden and Revelstoke, the Dominion will spend $400,000 this year, thus advancing work to a material extent. There is still much building to do on the west side of the highway, however, while it has been estimated that to complete the whole stretch, giving a through all-Canadian route to the Pacific coast, would cost $2,000,000.

Work on the scenic highway between Jasper Park and Lake Louise also is being advanced this year, the Dominion having decided to spend $220,000 or $110,000 at each end of this project. The government feels that it has been committed to this highway, though it was undertaken by the previous administration, and will gradually bring it to completion.

Of interest to Albertans was the recent announcement that it is likely the Dominion will make an appropriation next year for work on a highway west of Jasper park to link with the road from Kamloops to Blue River. A new route is suggested, however, going by way of Tete Jaune Cache, which would serve a fishing and lumbering territory, besides having many scenic advantages.

The Alberta Motor Association and other Alberta organizations which have fought for years for tourist outlets to the Pacific, welcome the news of progress programs this year.

Robert Livett, president of District 18 of the United Mine Workers of America, and John Stokalk, secretary of Mine Workers' Union of Canada, were in the district during the week, and addressed meetings at Fernie, Michel, Coleman, Blairmore, Hillcrest and Bellevue in the interest of the proposed amalgamation scheme. A vote of miners of the district will be taken on June 30th.

CALGARY'S FAMOUS STAMPEDE TO BE HELD JULY 6th to 11th

Rated as one of the most colorful shows of its kind on the continent, the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede will stage its fifty-first annual event from July 6th to 11th. This famous Stampede annually attracts tens of thousands of visitors from all over Canada and the United States, and the programme planned for this year's show is exceptionally outstanding. From all indications the attendance will surpass last year's record when 22,808 people visited the exhibition grounds.

The opening event on Monday morning, July 6th, will be the famous Stampede Parade, at which it is estimated at least fifty thousand people will be spectators. This procession is several miles long, and it is a thrilling sight to witness the hundreds of Indians and Cowboys in their picturesque costumes, Mounted Police, Chuck Wagons, twelve hundred horses, and some twenty bands providing the music.

The Stampede itself will be held every afternoon, with between five and six hundred entries, including the greatest riders and ropers on the American continent. All events are competitive, and include the North American and Canadian Championship Buck

GENERAL ELECTION FOR QUEBEC IS SET FOR AUGUST 15

Quebec.—The political sun has set on Louis Alexandre Taschereau.

The suave, silver-haired French-Canadian lawyer who spent half his 70 years in public life, resigned from the premiership of Quebec—just a month after the Liberal party celebrated its 39th successive year in power.

On his recommendation, Hon. Adolphe Godbout, former minister of agriculture, former premier, shortly after the legislature was dissolved and the premier had announced a general election would be held Aug. 15.

It was a day of fast-moving events in the old capital. But the premier's resignation did not come as a surprise. For days it had been considered imminent. Numerous rumors failed only to specify the definite time. They said Premier Taschereau would end his political life and there would be a reshuffling of the cabinet.

Mr. Taschereau, meanwhile, issued a long statement explaining his reasons for resigning.

"I leave political life," he said, "without bitterness and without anger against anyone, wishing as I do to remember only the pleasures it has brought me. The friends I have made and the little good I have been able to accomplish."

Mr. Taschereau had said he planned to retire before the last general election, but he felt he would not be doing his duty if he abandoned his party "at a time when it has been the object of the most violent attacks from our opponents."

Mr. Godbout was sworn in as premier by Dr. Alfred Morrisette, clerk of the executive council, in the presence of the lieutenant-governor and the former premier.

Opposition leader Maurice Duplessis, whose Conservative forces, allied with the ranks of Action Libérale Nationale, lent such a staggering blow to the Liberal regime in last November's general election, said he found the government's "manner of proceeding rather curious."

"Not only had the legislature been dissolved, he said, but also the Taschereau regime. He voiced the objection of carrying on his work at the public accounts committee."

"We were just commencing the inquiry," he said, "and had only started to bring to light the scandal I have promised to prove. Now the government asks that the house be dissolved." The work would be continued by the next government, however, "and I can assure you," said Mr. Duplessis, "restitution will be forced from those who have pocketed public funds and those guilty of criminal offences will be sent to jail."

Just A Formal Motion

Finance Minister Asking Authority To Borrow Up To $750,000,000

Ottawa.—Authority for the necessary refunding and borrowing the government may normally expect in the next two or three years will be sought from parliament in a resolution appearing on votes and proceedings in the name of Finance Minister Dunning.

The motion is for authority to borrow up to a maximum of $750,000,000 to be used for redemption of outstanding loans, purchasing or withdrawing from circulation un-matured securities and for public works and general purposes. It is a formal motion adopted by parliament at necessary intervals so that ample authority may be ready at any time the need arises to negotiate loans.

Canada Purchases Arms

Washington.—Canada bought United States-made arms and military materials to the amount of $57,203 during May, it was announced by Secretary of State Hull. Argentina headed all American nations with purchases of $889,321. China was the largest buyer of American arms, taking $1,390,102 worth.

For Toronto Exhibition

Toronto.—Public schools from as far away as Grenfell and Yorkton, Sask., and Edmonton, have already sent entries to the art, manual training, needlework and other competitions at the Canadian National Exhibition here this year. Toronto and suburban schools have forwarded a total of 60,000 entries.

Code For Girl Workers

National Council Of Women Urges 69-Hour Week

Halifax.—The National Council of Women, in annual convention here, adopted in principle a code for household workers and employers which, among other things, would call for a work week of not more than 69 hours, overtime pay and a minimum wage schedule.

Miss A. M. Ward, of the Halifax Young Women's Christian Association, opened the convention after considerable discussion the convention decided to send it to local councils throughout Canada.

The code presented by Miss Ward was:

1.—Working hours per week should not exceed 69, including meal hours. This would involve (approximately) (a) an 11-hour day; (b) two weekly half-days off, one preferably Sunday.

2.—Minimum wage in cities over 100,000: Inexperienced household help, $17 per month; experienced, $22. Minimum wage in cities under 100,000: Inexperienced, $15; experienced, $20.

3.—Overtime work should be paid for either in money or extra time off.

4.—Hours off, rates of pay and general outline of duties should be set at time of employment.

5.—Separate room for sleeping should be provided, and some facilities for entertaining.

Arctic Expedition

Party Of University Graduates Sail Northward From Churchill

Churchill, Man.—After several previous unsuccessful attempts, the British Canadian Arctic expedition, 1934-1935, sailed northward recently in the whaleboat Polcat, towing a large canoe for use in case of emergency.

No ice was in sight in Hudson Bay as the expedition, in charge of Thomas H. Manning, set out but they expected to encounter some before they reach Rankin Inlet, their first stop.

Other members of the party, all Cambridge University graduates, are Patrick Baird, Dr. Richard Keeling, Reynold Bray and Graham Rowley.

Under the auspices of the Royal Geographical Society, the expedition will spend the first winter at Repulse Bay, 550 miles north of here. The following winter will be spent in the neighborhood of the north magnetic pole and the third winter will be spent in northern parts of Baffin Island and Ellesmere Island.

Reduced Railway Fares

Special Holiday Rates Arranged For Dominion Day

Winnipeg.—Reduced fares between all points in Canada are announced by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways for Dominion Day, July 1, according to Joseph B. Parker, western secretary of the Canadian Passenger Association. With the holiday falling on Wednesday, tickets are made good from Tuesday, June 30 to July 1. These can be obtained for the going journey from June 30 to 2 p.m. on July 1, and returning are good till midnight on Thursday, July 2.

As arranged also for the King's birthday, June 23, the Dominion Day fares include one-way coach class fare and one-third for the round trip fare in coaches and in tourist sleeping cars on payment for that accommodation, and one way first class fare and one-third for the trip good in sleeping and parlor cars on payment for this first class accommodation.

From the number of enquiries already received at headquarters of both railways, both King's birthday and Dominion Day holiday rates indicate a large passenger list.

British Wheat Reserve

United Kingdom Has Three Months Supply In Case Of War

London.—The United Kingdom's present wheat supply would feed the country for about three months in the event of war cutting off further shipments, Sir Thomas Inskip, informed the House of Commons.

The question was raised by W. S. Liddell, Conservative, who asked the defence co-ordination minister what measures were being taken to assure a reserve supply of grain in case of war.

"The question of a sufficient wheat reserve will be considered by the committee which is now engaged in examining the whole subject of food supplies in war time," Sir Thomas replied.

CAHAN CLASHES WITH McGEER ON MONETARY POLICY

Ottawa.—Two men as far apart as the poles in their monetary beliefs, Charles Hazlett Cahan, secretary of state in the Bennett administration, and Gerald Grattan McGeer, financial reformer from Vancouver, crossed swords in the House of Commons.

The buttons were off the folds from the start with the Montrealer accusing the British-Columbia Liberal of advancing half-baked financial ideas, which eventually would lead to wildcat inflation and ruin for the country.

The man from the far west, just as Celtic as his name indicates, came back in kind, accusing Mr. Cahan of avoiding facts, entertaining false premises and continuing support to a system that has brought Canada to the brink of disaster.

The former cabinet minister sounded a rally call for men to stand together against inflation which he believed was moving fast into the centre of the political stage in Canada.

"Men on either side of the house," exclaimed Mr. Cahan, "who take a conservative view, not in a political sense but a conservative and perhaps traditional view, must be prepared to advocate what they believe to be sound and sane national policies with regard to monetary matters, whether it cuts against their own political party or the political party on the other side."

By references to post-war Germany and other instances in history, Mr. Cahan pointed to the perils of inflation which he believed left misery, disaster and ruin in its wake. In his judgment, inflation or no inflation rapidly was becoming a major question in Canada and he promised to do everything possible to stop the poisoning process.

Back came Mr. McGeer at him, accusing him of casting sneers and jeers at him because he could not meet his arguments in favor of a managed currency and a central bank that would issue currency and credit in terms of public needs, not for private gain.

Inflation was not his remedy, said Mr. McGeer. "What I do say is that within the limits of our gold reserves, our gold production, our legal tender currency and our practice of creating an effective bank credit transferable by cheque, there is more money available than is necessary to finance the government without a disastrous imposition of taxation."

Had Narrow Escape

Darjeeling, India.—Reports from the British advance party seeking to climb Mount Everest said the group had narrowly escaped death June 6 when a sudden avalanche swept down the mountain side. The party was trying to reach camp four, high up on the slope toward the 29,000-foot peak, the loftiest in the world.

Honors For Sir Edward Beatty

New York.—New York University conferred an honorary degree of doctor of laws on Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and chancellor of McGill University.

PROMINENT WESTERN FAMILIES LINKED BY MARRIAGE

A scene outside the First Presbyterian Church, Regina, on the occasion of the marriage of Audrey Bell and Charles Edward Michener. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Bell of Regina, and the late George Bell, well-known Western Canada newspaperman, and Mr. Michener is the son of Senator and Mrs. E. Michener, of Calgary. Mr. and Mrs. Michener will reside in Sudbury, Ontario.

RETURNS TO CABINET

Sir Samuel Hoare, brilliant British parliamentarian, who was forced to resign from the Cabinet several months ago, has returned to the British Cabinet as First Lord of the Admiralty. This is a very important post, particularly in view of the present tense situation in Europe and Asia.

Counterfeiter At Work

Bank Of Canada Notes Are Raised

Ottawa.—The Bank of Canada disclosed search was being made for a man who had raised three or four of the bank's bills by skillful art work, faking a $2 bill into a $20 on one occasion.

Governor Graham Towers said he believed there were not more than four of the bills in circulation and that they had been traced in Ontario and Manitoba.

One of the notes, recovered by police, was of $2 denomination in the French issue. The numerals 12 were changed to 20 and the word, "Deux Dollars" were darkened so as to be almost imperceptible in the lathe-work.

The same words on the lower border of the front of the note were faded out and "twenty dollars" substituted.

Will Make An Exception

C.P.R. Steamship Company Not Taking Action Against Stowaway

Southampton.—The Canadian Pacific Steamship Company took the unusual course of asking leave to withdraw a charge of stowing away in Southampton police court against Henry James Bunker, 23-year-old Montreal window-dresser.

A. R. Lightfoot, on behalf of the Canadian Pacific, told the magistrate the company did not want to encourage stowaways, but in this case intended to make an exception.

Bunker apparently stowed away at Quebec aboard the liner Empress of Australia with the idea of joining the Royal Air Force. During the voyage he impressed the ship's officers with his willingness to work hard and good behavior. He promised repayment for his passage.

Ends First Round Trip

Southampton.—R.M.S. Queen Mary, completing her first round trip to North America, docked June 10 at 2:35 p.m. GMT. (7:25 a.m. M.S.T.)

The Queen Mary was delayed by fog on her first eastbound transatlantic trip, as she had been on the outward journey.

Scotland Yard Expert

Sir Patrick Quinn Of Investigation Department Is Dead

New York.—A London despatch to the New York Times says Sir Patrick Quinn, 80, former superintendent of the special branch of the criminal investigation department Scotland Yard, is dead.

Because of this knowledge, he was invariably entrusted with the protection of Queen Victoria, Edward VII. and George V. during their sojourns abroad and also was made responsible for the safety of all foreign rulers visiting England. Sir Patrick shunned publicity. When a few weeks after the outbreak of the war it became known that he had been able to round up nearly all the principal German spies in the United Kingdom, it was suggested that his success should be published, but he objected.

"For heaven's sake," he said, "let everybody think us stupid and inefficient! It is our greatest asset."

SENATE REJECTS AMENDMENTS TO THE B. N. A. ACT

Ottawa.—Senate division bells rang the death knell of immediate constitutional reform when the predominant Conservative majority of the red chamber united in a straight party vote to defeat 40-15, the joint petition asking for specific amendments to the British North America Act.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, refused to accept a proposed amendment from the government side which sought to ratify objections to the proposal to obtain constitutional power for the provinces to impose indirect taxation. "I am against the amendment and against the address," he declared.

The Conservative leader declared the time had arrived when the government should come to grips with the problem of provincial expenditures for social services they could not afford and relief of unemployed who refused to work.

The joint address, which was adopted in the House of Commons without division, was a petition to the British parliament to amend the British North America Act in two respects. One clause sought power for the provinces to impose sales taxes on certain classes of commodities, the other to provide necessary power for the minister of finance to set up provincial loan councils.

Under the constitution provinces may impose only direct taxes and the indirect taxation dealt in restricted to the Dominion. Certain forms of indirect taxation, such as those on luxuries and entertainment, are already being imposed but subject to challenge on constitutional grounds.

There was little debate on the loan council phase of the address, but Hon. Raoul Dandurand, government leader, declared from the first that no motion could be accepted that would take anything away from the address. Defeat of the amendment by a recorded vote was followed by rejection of the address on the same division.

Previously, after the address had been studied before the senate banking and commerce committee, and the indirect taxation deal in restricted to the Dominion. Certain forms of indirect taxation, such as those on luxuries and entertainment, are already being imposed but subject to challenge on constitutional grounds.

PROBE METHODS FOR REDUCING THE WHEAT SURPLUS

Ottawa.—A royal commission will investigate wheat marketing if the recommendation submitted to the house by the special committee on the subject is accepted by the government. Trade Minister Euler was chairman of the committee and two other ministers, Hon. James Gardiner and Hon. T. A. Crerar, served on it, so there is little doubt its unanimous recommendations will be carried out.

The report was unanimous and found the course taken by the new wheat board under the chairmanship of James R. Murray was consistent with the policy of the government to reduce the wheat surplus to reasonable proportions.

A commission of three will probably be appointed and one of its duties will be to study marketing conditions in the United Kingdom and other importing countries in Europe. The committee spent many days hearing the evidence of James R. Murray, chairman of the Canadian wheat board, and members of the Winnipeg grain exchange, so the commission will have a great amount of data on the Canadian end of the marketing.

There have also been other commissions studying the Canadian side of the selling of wheat, the last being that headed by Sir Josiah Stamp. There has been no such study of the buying side in overseas markets.

The report proposed the commission make "complete survey of the production, grading and distribution of Canadian grain, including the methods of marketing by the producers themselves through co-operative and stabilizing efforts. The agency of a government wheat board and the powers such a board possess; the open market or the competitive method—and further to inquire into the general effect of mixing, if any, and of selection of protein content by millers and exporters."

The commission found no fault with the operations of the present wheat board. Regarding claims the board had unduly protected shorts last December when the announcement of the Argentine minimum price sent the market up, the report said there had been no evidence submitted to substantiate those claims but the commission might go more deeply into them.

Would Lift Sanctions

Neville Chamberlain Urges System Of Regional Security

London.—Lifting of sanctions from Italy and organization of a system of regional security pacts were urged by Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer.

Addressing the 1900 Club, the chancellor said that before these proposals can be "translated in action, we must take counsel with others, particularly those dominions whose partnership with us means so much for the influence of the British empire in the world."

Mr. Chamberlain alluded to the recent circular of Viscount Cecil to members of the League of Nations union urging pressure against the government to pursue sanctions and even intensify them with the object of still preserving the independence of Ethiopia.

"That, the chancellor declared, "is the very mid-summer of madness."

Republican Candidate

Governor Landon Of Kansas Nominated For U.S. President

Convention Hall, Cleveland.—In a tremendous demonstration of enthusiasm, and with only 19 votes in opposition, the Republican national convention nominated Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the United States presidency.

State after state cast their entire delegate votes for the so-called "Coolidge of the west" after a ruling it was necessary to call the roll. Shouts of "no" greeted the rule, as the convention obviously wanted to make it by acclamation.

Experts Go To England

Ottawa.—The advance guard of departmental experts who will start reviewing Canada's trade agreement with the United Kingdom, sailed June 12 from Montreal. The experts will lay the groundwork for possible negotiations later in the summer when ministers of the government will go overseas.

TO DEMONSTRATE

FOR WORLD PEACE

BOSTON, Mass., June 8.—An appeal to Christian Scientists to work for the demonstration of World Peace, the reading of reports by church officers on the various activities of the movement throughout the world and sustained demand for the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science, marked the annual meeting today of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Election of Mrs. Elizabeth Cadwell Tomlinson, of Boston, as President of The Mother Church, was announced. She succeeds Dr. Frank C. Colby.

Approximately 6000 Christian Scientists representing every state in the Union and practically every civilized nation in the world attended the meeting.

Introducing the theme of World Peace, William P. McKenzie, for the past year chairman of the board of directors, told the audience, "There is a rising demand in the hearts of men for freedom and justice."

"Our leader in her preface to 'Miscellaneous Writings' spoke of 'the spiritual glow and grandeur of a consecrated life wherein dwelleth peace, sacred and sincere in trial or in triumph.' Following her inspiring example, let us dignify this coming year by an endeavor 'to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace' (Ephesians 4:3)."

In her address, Mrs. Tomlinson spoke in somewhat the same vein as Mr. McKenzie, declaring that "the developments of this hour in world history are not 'disheartening' to the thinker in Christian Science. These developments corroborate and fulfill our leader's prophecy (Miscellaneous 281:28): 'War will end when nations are ripe for progress.'"

Edward L. Ripley, re-elected church treasurer, expressed gratitude that "There is no debt of any kind on the new Publishing House and other property owned by The Mother Church or its affiliated trusteeships."

Also re-elected was Ezra W. Palmer, clerk of the church.

His report included information on the relief work done by the church. The Relief Fund of The Mother Church alleviated distress caused by hurricanes in Florida; by earthquake in Montana; continued work at the Veterans' Hospital, Oteen, N.C.; aided those whose property was damaged by tornado in Mississippi and North Carolina; and assisted sufferers from floods in southern and eastern states. Relief was dispensed among Christian Scientists and non-Christian Scientists in 14 states. In the course of this work assistance was given to or through a number of ministers of other denominations who have expressed much appreciation for the assistance and the spirit in which it was administered.

As manager of committees on publication, C. Augustus Norwood, declared: "That through the publication of religious items and the radio-casting of religious programs and news comments from The Christian Science Monitor, friendly relationships have been established with newspapers and radio stations."

Miss Margaret Murney Glenn as chairman of the Board of Lectureship for the past year, cited cases of instantaneous healings which had taken place as a result of public lectures on Christian Science.

The fruitage of Christian Science in healing all manner of disease and disorder was attested in selected testimonials read by Mrs. Jennie H. Jarvis.

A WORTHWHILE HAPPENING

A Roman Catholic, a former student for the priesthood and now a professor, addressed the United Church Conference at Sackville, N.B. The happening is worthy of note. Prof. A. B. MacDonald, of St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, is well qualified to grace any platform calling for intelligence, literary attainments and practical common sense. And just such a call was made on him when he appeared before the United Church conference. Two forces met, on that occasion, with a common objective—the bettering of human conditions.

The pleasing and worthwhile feature of the occasion was the emphasis it gives to the commonness of the work that is being aimed at and done by all Christian bodies. Altogether too much stress in the past has been placed on secular externals.

Men and women have lost sight of the fact that those who take on themselves the name Christian can have only one real objective. All else is non-essential. Motives are common, but methods differ. It makes no great odds after all if one man rows a short quick stroke and another a long slow sweep, provided they both reach their objective. One man is built for the short and quick, and the other for the long and slow. Men are built differently, but fundamentally man's needs are common, ever have been and ever will be.

The advance in tolerance, the recognition of oneness in motive, the disregard of varying methods, as exemplified in that Sackville happening which brought Protestant and Roman Catholic into accord, is a tribute to all concerned and indeed a hopeful sign. Too long and too sadly have devout and sincere people been divided. After all, "there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free but Christ is all in all."—Truro Weekly News.

ALBERTA'S SOCIAL

CREDIT EXPERIMENT

There seems to be a rift in the Social Credit Party in Alberta, and what is called the Douglas Social Credit Party has written Premier Aberhart calling his attention to pre-election promises and asking that he secure an immediate lowering of taxes, an immediate reduction in prices and the definite establishment of the right of the Province to monetize its own wealth. But it is possible that the Premier realizes that this is just what he is not able to do. On the other hand, the Premier declares that the newspapers, which, by the way, have been a thorn in his side ever since he began his campaign, should be compelled to take out a license, as otherwise one hundred "money barons" can easily control ten million voters. But if licensing means that the papers would be compelled to print just what the politicians think should be printed, and refuse to publish whatever the politicians did not like, then we submit that it will be a long time before such licensing takes place in this country. Meanwhile, the country at large is waiting for the submission of the Social Credit programme, at least that part of it which means twenty-five dollars per month to each adult citizen, and for some reason or other this consummation seems to be just as far in the future now as it was when Mr. Aberhart's campaign swept Alberta into the Social Credit Party. Is it feasible? The Premier still insists that it is, and a few believe him absolutely, but the rest are very sceptical and will remain so until they see the scheme actually working. —The New Outlook.

Rev. N. W. Whitmore, grand chaplain, of Pincher Creek; Rev. A. J. Mitchell, of Macleod, and A. B. Balintyne, grand secretary, of Calgary, were unable to attend the unveiling of the Oddfellows' memorial cairn at Claresholm on Sunday last. Rev. E. W. Dalgleish and Mrs. T. A. Williams, chaplain of the Rebekah Assembly, had charge of the service.

WHAT OTHER PEOPLE SAY

In his stroll along the road of cultural dividends Premier Aberhart is clearly reaching a point at which popular doubts may well give way to sympathy for the political wayfarer. As the perplexities and difficulties of the Social Credit road increase, the erstwhile optimist of the microphone finds more and more lions in his path.

The chief of these is free discussion. Premier Aberhart has manifested in recent months a growing uneasiness over the freedom with which his proposals have been scrutinized and analyzed in the public press. Now, he is advocating outright the licensing of newspapers, which means of course, their censoring and potentially their suppression.

This is clearly a recognition of the weakness of his case. How much stronger it would be were he to say: "My friends, read the arguments and criticisms of our opponents, because if our case cannot bear and survive free criticism it is no good."

Unfortunately Premier Aberhart is afraid to take that course. He desires his disciples to be spoon-fed by himself from his own brew with all other brews shut off.

Even if Premier Aberhart's complaint of "false coloring" and the printing of "inaccurate stories" were true, it would be no justification for the curtailing of free discussion. Far from damaging a good cause, misrepresentation of it is in the end invariably an assistance.—Winnipeg Tribune.

On behalf of a number of ratepayers, S. G. Bannan appeared to the town council on Monday night to delay their action of closing the Fifth Avenue railway crossing and opening a crossing at Seventh until a plebiscite of the ratepayers had been taken. He was advised that they were acting upon advice of their solicitor.

Appearing before Magistrate Gresham on Monday morning, Jean Moore, tenant or landlady of a badly house in East Blairmore, was fined $50 and costs; three girls, inmates, $25 and costs each, and ten men frequenters, $10 and costs each. The Mounted and town police co-operated in the raid.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Howe are in town from Kimberley on a flying visit with relatives here. They leave on this afternoon's train, Mr. Howe going to Sudbury, Ontario, to which point he is being transferred by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company, while Mrs. Howe will spend some time visiting in Edmonton.

THIS is the great outdoor season and that means the great snapshot season. All over Western Canada cameras are busy clicking away. Recording occasions of work and play that take place in these long Summer days.

Naturally when you take a picture you take it for the purpose of preserving a memory. It is important, then, that whoever prints that picture for you prints it in such a manner as to give the most lasting and permanent impression that it is possible for you to get.

In a case like this, it pays to pay for the best. These snapshot records are important to you. Send your films, then, to EATON'S for printing. Here, expert workmen working with the finest of material, in workrooms, boasting the most modern equipment, all combine to give prints that are clear, clean-cut, and, above all, permanent—all at prices that are really low when you compare the quality of work turned out.

CHAS. PATTON, Prop.
LUNDBRECK ALBERTA

Alto, California, arrived here Monday to spend a few days with Mr. Watson's mother.

Mrs. S. Humble spent the week end in Calgary.

James Tatt was a week end visitor to Waterton Lakes.

Mrs. McEachern entertained a number of ladies at her home on Monday evening.

Quite a number of local young ladies journeyed to Hillcrest on Monday evening to attend the shower given in honor of Miss Irene Turner, bride-elect of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. H. McInnis, of Lloydminster, Sask., spent Wednesday in town, renewing old acquaintances. They were enroute to visit Mr. and Mrs. A. Martell at Creston.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

A number of Cowley young folks attended the dance held at the Tanner schoolhouse on Friday night, and reported having had a jolly time.

Ralph Easterbrook, of Calgary, paid a visit to his mother here over the week end.

Eight high school pupils of the local school began writing exams on Tuesday.

Robert Cochrane, of the Tanner school district, is writing Grade X exams at the Cowley school.

On receiving a telegram apprising her of the illness of her father, Mr. Fairclough, at Vancouver, Mrs. Jack Green with her husband and two children left for the coast by motor on Tuesday morning.

Both Mrs. Henry Franz and Mrs. Fred Dionne were patients in St. Vincent's hospital at Pincher Creek for a few days this week.

A dance, sponsored by the ladies of St. Joseph's church, was held in the Lundbreck hall on Friday night, and was well attended.

A large crowd of fans gathered at the Lundbreck sports grounds on Sunday afternoon to witness the baseball game between Todd Creek and Cowley. Todd Creek emerged winners by a 4 to 2 score.

Mrs. M. B. Thomas, of Ozark, Missouri, is paying a visit to her daughter, Mrs. George Dwyer. Before returning, she will visit at other points in Alberta.

On Wednesday evening a game of baseball between Todd Creek and Cowley teams was played here, resulting in a 5-2 score in favor of Todd Creek. Good play was shown by both teams. A large crowd of rooters cheered the players.

An old Stony Indian, long since stationed with his tribesmen at the Morley reserve, named Ezra, and who claims to be an Indian preacher, made the journey of a hundred and fifty miles or so, by wagon, accompanied by his aged and now much-crippled squaw, to pay a visit of a few days to his pale-faced friends who are yet living of those he had known many years ago. Ezra roamed with his fellow redmen, gathering a living from the fat of the land in the early days in this district, this being his first return in thirty years. He is a benevolent old man now, and appears to be a devout christian. He seemed to get a lot of pleasure out of talking and reviewing early happenings and things in general, and of the people of pioneer days, many of whom now belong to the ages, yet he remains hale and hearty, and takes a keen and delightful interest in everything and everybody. Ezra will be remembered by a large number of people in this district, and also up and down the Crows' Nest Pass.

Tuesday next, June 23rd, the King's birthday, has been proclaimed a statutory holiday in Alberta.

The Lundbreck Softball Club will hold a dance in the Lundbreck hall on Friday, the 26th. At this dance a draw will be made for the hooked rug.

the local juniors. The game was featured by a pitching duel between E. Brunswick and Stan on the Seaman, harrier, and Stan on the mounds for Fernie. The score was tied one-all up to the end of the seventh inning, but Fernie managed to push over three runs in the last two innings to take the game. The juniors produced a fine brand of ball against a senior and more experienced team, and their performance points to them as a real threat for provincial honors.

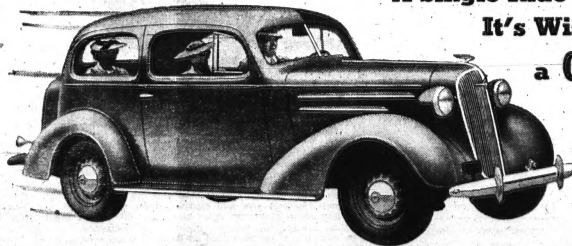

Sir James MacBrien, Commissioner of the R.C.M.P., has suggested lower run prices on the part of the government as means of reducing liquor smuggling. Sir James says if New Brunswick and Nova Scotia Liquor Commissions bought rum wholesale from the West Indies and sold it as cheaply as possible this "would have a fair chance of reducing liquor smuggling considerably." While Sir James or any one else who suggests lower prices for rum will meet with violent opposition, the fact remains that the one big attraction for the smuggler and illicit dealer is the money that is in the business and if the chance of making money is lessened the lure of the business will also be lessened.—Ex.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

The skull of the Marquis de Montcalm, governor of French Canada at the time of the British conquest, will be placed on exhibition in a Quebec museum.

The king has given his patronage to the British council, set up to promote closer cultural relations between the United Kingdom and foreign countries.

It was authoritatively stated Australia will accept the plans of the British government for a bi-weekly flying-boat service between Singapore and Port Darwin. It is planned to begin service August, 1937.

Unemployed in the United Kingdom declined by 126,198 in the period from April 27 to May 25, it was announced. Insured employees as of the latter date totalled 10,831,000, an increase of 120,000 over the month.

Frank Barnard and Fred Schrader of Edmonton, both blind, have made a model of the liner Queen Mary. On a scale of one inch to 25 feet, the model is 41 inches long and complete in every detail.

Negotiations are afoot looking to a faster and better steamship service between Canada and Australia and New Zealand. Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of trade and commerce, told the House of Commons.

J. E. Burridge, junior city clerk in Halifax, earned $920 last year and won a $90 increase. This put him over the $1,000-a-year class, where he was subject to a 10 per cent. cut. Now he draws $909 a year.

Plans for a flight across the South Atlantic in a free balloon were being made by Dr. Zimmer, famous Hamburg pilot. The 3,700 miles between Casablanca, Morocco, and the mouth of the Amazon river can be covered in from five to eight days with prevailing winds, the balloonist said.

Manitoba is free from grasshoppers this year, for the first time in five years. H. E. Wood of the provincial department of agriculture stated recently. He said that $50,000 voted by the legislature for a poison-bait campaign will not be needed.

Preserving B.C. Landmark

Directional Finder Will Be Carefully Guarded in Future

A block of stone engraved with lead letters, left at Vancouver, B.C., in 1896 by the crew of H.M.S. Eggeria to determine longitude and latitude, has been uncovered near the sunset gun in Stanley Park.

The stone, buried under moss and gravel, was formerly used to correct errors in ship's instruments but fell into disuse and was completely forgotten.

Inscribed on the stone is the exact longitude and latitude of its position with a note it was placed there by the Eggeria, historic British survey ship.

The mark is badly worn by feet of careless visitors who were unaware a historic relic lay hidden beneath them. Steps are being taken to preserve the landmark. A protective barrier of chain and concrete will be erected around it or it will be raised on a stone pedestal surrounded by a small garden plot.

Marine Broadcasting Station

Latest Radio Equipment Integral Part of Best Liner

According to the London Times, a new liner is now being built at Belfast which will have as an integral part of its equipment a complete broadcasting station. It will have not only an adequately powered transmitter of latest, most up-to-date design but specially constructed broadcasting studios and a special personnel for the purpose of planning and producing programs for the benefit of listeners ashore. The name of the ship is the Kanberra.

When completed, it will sail from Belfast, to its home port in Melbourne, Australia, where it will be put into active service between Adelaide, South Australia, and Cairns, North Queensland. The Kanberra will be the first marine broadcasting station to be licensed by a government to transmit entertainment on regular schedules for listeners on land.

Many Memorial Plans

Late King George Will Be Memorialized All Over Empire

The late King George V. will be remembered through the ages. There have been 200 suggestions for memorials, aside from statues.

Among the leading suggestions for a "philanthropic" national memorial to the late king are:

Acquisition of land for a national park.

Homes for old people throughout the nation.

A medical research fund to include the provision of radium for cancer.

Hostels for young men and women seeking employment far from their homes.

(The money for the philanthropic memorial will be raised through public subscription.)

In addition, many towns and cities throughout Great Britain are selecting memorials.

It is proposed to have a stained glass window in Liverpool cathedral and a solid granite statue in Aberdeen.

A tablet will mark the spot where King George lay in state in Westminster Hall.

A plaque is being placed on the cottage in Wandsworth visited by the King on one of his jubilee tours.

There will be a great statue of King George on a site in London near Parliament Square.

And throughout the empire there will be innumerable statues and memorials to the dead monarch.

In New Delhi, India, there will be a statue approved by the King himself during his lifetime, placed in the centre of Princes Park.

Charles Jagger, sculptor, died before he finished the carving of the figure, but it will be completed.

The Princes of India are providing this memorial as their contribution to the new winter capital of India where the foundation stone was laid by King George at the conclusion of his Coronation Durbar in 1911.

In Bombay there will be a memorial infirmary for incurables.

Britain Has Hard Problem

Diplomacy Will Be Needed To Settle Trouble In Palestine

The trouble the British Government has run into in Palestine arises in considerable part because its wartime predecessor made too many promises.

It gave pledges to the Jews, and it gave pledges to the Arabs. In practice, if not in theory, those pledges clash.

The result has been a condition of chronic unrest throughout the Holy Land which is getting no less as the years pass, and at the moment is taking the form of something much resembling incipient war.

The British are notable for their ability to mouth away troubles within their Empire and in their spheres of influence, but if they can settle this one satisfactorily, in a way that will produce harmony instead of continuing strife, they may justifiably set up as successors to Solomon the Wise—Detroit Free Press.

While trying to wring the neck of a chicken, a man in Talna, New Zealand, let his fingers slip, and the sudden jerk broke his arm.

A Silken Thread

The Tie That Binds Together The Component Parts Of The British Empire

The recent proposal of a prominent American citizen that the interests of Canada and the United States would best be served were the two countries to join hands politically to form one great, powerful, and resourceful country, appears to be meeting with little or no response on this side of the long, unguarded international boundary, and this fact will probably surprise many good Americans who consider themselves as our cousins in a broad sense.

Naturally there is a reason for Canadians being content to remain within the British Commonwealth of Nations, a reason one could hardly expect Americans to appreciate. The reason is that the tie that binds the Dominion of Canada to Great Britain is not an iron chain but a silken thread. At the outset of the development of Canada this country was governed by Great Britain, but as the country developed self-government developed until finally, under the statute of Westminster, Canada gained full nationhood as a member, with equal status, of the great British Commonwealth. The bond is aptly likened to a silken thread, but there is no disposition to break the slender tie.—Swift Current Herald.

Great Progress Made

Montreal Doctor Hopes Eventually To Stamp Out Scarlet Fever

Scarlet fever, number one infectious disease, on the doctor's list, since diphtheria has been conquered, is now generally considered to be no more dangerous than chicken pox or measles, according to Dr. H. B. Cushing, Montreal, who presented a paper on the disease before the recent annual convention of the Ontario Medical Association.

Dr. Cushing warned that while scarlet fever is practically under control with the mortality rate down to one per cent, there is still danger of epidemics of great seriousness.

"If there were no scarlet fever many infectious hospitals would be closed," said Dr. Cushing. The development of tests and anti-toxins by Dr. and Mrs. Dick have added greatly to prevention, diagnosis and treatment, but these are not quite as satisfactory as similar methods used in diphtheria cases, he said.

Dr. Cushing was of the opinion the use of serum for scarlet fever is justified and was optimistic the disease would eventually be stamped out.

"Scarlet fever is practically certain to return in a very virulent form," said Dr. Cushing, "but it is comforting to know we can control the disease with serum."

MARCH OF PROGRESS

Year by year improvements succeed one another, on the prairies. The ox-cart gave way to the horse and buggy, and the horse and buggy gave way to the automobile, until now aeroplanes are gradually taking the place of the duties of the automobile. The latest step in the line of progress on the prairies is the coming of a powerful, high speed aeroplane ambulance to Regina to serve Saskatoon, whose sponsors believe will save a great many lives. Preparations for the institution of this new service have been under way for a great many months. In the use of this aeroplane, the patient at a country point is placed on a stretcher, wrapped in blankets and is kept free from the danger of chills until admission to hospital.

TO RECALL THE PAST

Just before she started on her long journey to Vancouver to function in the Golden Jubilee ceremonies, Canadian Pacific locomotive No. 374, reconstructed in Weston shops, Winnipeg, was photographed with her modern counterpart, the steel encased 211. Both under steam, both were powered 100 per cent. efficient, each in its own way. No. 374 is the exact replica of the old engine which hauled the first transcontinental train into the West.

With pageantry re-enacting the exact scene of fifty years ago, the coast terminus will hall the arrival of the old train's duplicate at 12 noon on Friday, July 3. Premier Pattullo and the mayors of Vancouver, Victoria and Port Moody will give addresses of welcome to which a Canadian Pacific official representing Harry A. Abbott, who performed the original honors, will reply. At the throttle of the locomotive will be W. H. (Billy) Evans of Vancouver, back at his place after fifty years. P. A. Barnhart, of Kamloops, will take up again his duties as conductor. He is the only other surviving member of the train crew of 1886.

Many Years At Sea

Sir Edgar Britten Started His Career In Sailing Ship

Sir Edgar Britten, tooling the Queen Mary out on the high seas, first went to sea in sailing ships 44 years ago. In his youth he jettisoned his middle name, Theophilus, and it seems a pity, for he resembles the Roman Emperor and it was an apt name. Theophilus was an iconoclast and humorist, and so is Sir Edgar.

He has ridden pretty nearly everything the Cunard line ever set afloat, and was commodore of the Cunard fleet and captain of the Berengaria, among many others. He was knighted in February, 1934, the third of the Cunard staff to be selected for this honor. The others were the late Sir James Charles and Sir Arthur Rostron.

Only the White Star commodore who has been knighted is Sir Bertram Hayes.

Last fall, due to the consolidation of the Cunard and White Star lines, there was much uncertainty as to the command of the Queen Mary. With matters of seniority involved, Sir Edgar, ready to retire at 60, was persuaded to sign on for three years more.

"You must be a proud man," says the King to the captain.

"I am, sir," says the captain to the King.

He left grammar school to become a sailor on the Barque Jessie Osborn. He joined the Cunard service in 1901. In 1903, he was given a commission in the Royal Reserve. Multitudes of sea-going folk know him and esteem him highly. He has not only a trim ship and trim person, but a trim vocabulary. He is a great spinner of yarns and given to salty and witty discourse.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JUNE 21

JESUS EXALTED

Golden text: Wherefore also God highly exalted him, and gave unto him the name which is above every name. Philippians 2:9.

Lesson: Luke 24. Devotional Reading: Hebrews 2:9-13.

Explanations And Comments

Jesus Appears to the Eleven Disciples, Luke 24: 36-43. On the evening of the first Easter, while the two of whom Jesus had made himself known at Emmaus in the breaking of bread were telling the apostles in Jerusalem of their wonderful talk with the Risen Lord, he himself suddenly appeared in their midst and gave them the customary form of greeting, "Peace be unto you."

The apostles were terrified, for they supposed they were beholding a spirit. "A form recognizable as that of Jesus, but of Jesus not risen but come from the world of the dead disembodied or only with an apparent body."

"Why are ye troubled? and wherefore do questionings arise in your heart?" he asked, and then to reassure them, to convince them that he was living and was not a disembodied spirit, he bade them see and touch his hands and his feet. "A spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye behold me having," he told them. "The resurrection body could evidently offer resistance to touch, but its nature escapes our conception." (A. E. Garvie).

While they still disbelieved for joy ("a curious yet real state of mind") he asked for something to eat, and when they gave him a piece of a broiled fish he ate before them.

The Leave-taking, Luke 24:50-53. Luke here omits all the eastern slope of the Mount of Olives, facing Bethany. The apostles believed that the abode of the blessed was up in heaven, and therefore the account speaks of Jesus as being "carried up into heaven." Jesus withdrew from the sphere of the seen and physical to the sphere of the unseen and spiritual. He did not pass up or down through the vast spaces of the skies. We are not to think of him as far away. He is an unseen, divine presence superior to the limitations of time and space." (C. R. Erdman).

There was no longer any doubt in the disciples' minds about the Deity of Christ, and they worshipped him. Then they returned to Jerusalem with great joy, for they knew that they had not lost their Lord, that his promise was true, he would be with them always. And they went continually in the temple at all the stated hours of worship blessing God.

Teeth are a barometer of your temperament. If they have a bluish hue, you're temperamental; maybe even inclined to be neurotic. Yellow teeth indicate a jolly disposition. And pearly white teeth—the kind every one yearns for—are a sign of poor molars. . . . And speaking of teeth: America's sweet tooth has caused the per capita consumption of sugar in this country to nearly double since 1900.

A Dickens Story

Man Charged With Robbery "Recognized" Author As Receiver Of Stolen Goods

Everything to do with Charles Dickens, particularly at the present time, is interesting, says a correspondent in Sunday Times. Mr. Dickens and Mr. Mark Lemon attended at Marylebone police-court on March 20, 1949; the latter for the purpose of preferring a charge against Cornelius Hearne for attempted robbery.

Mr. Lemon said in evidence: "I was walking with my friend Mr. Dickens along the Edgeware Road. I felt a hand in my coat pocket, and on turning round saw the prisoner draw his hand therefrom. I and Mr. Dickens ran after him, and he was shortly afterwards taken."

Mr. Dickens, at the station, said: "I thought I knew the prisoner and that I had seen him at the House of Correction." Prisoner said: "Now, your worship, he must have been in 'quod' then himself or he could not have seen me. I know these two gentlemen well; they're no better than swell mob-men and get their living by buying stolen goods. (Laughter.) That one" (pointing to Mr. Dickens) "keeps a fence, and I recollect him at the prison when he was put in for six months, while I was only there for two."

The report goes on to state: "Both the literary gentlemen appeared to enjoy amazingly the honor which the prisoner had with such unblushing effrontery conferred upon them. The prisoner's age is given as 19 years."

Fortress In Caspian Sea

Sank Far Below Surface Years Ago In Earthquake

Soviet scientists in Moscow said they believed the Caspian Sea, world's richest source of caviar, is drying up. In Baku harbor, deep water port, a fortress has appeared. The scientists say the battlements were constructed 800 years ago by Persian Shahs as an outpost in the centuries of struggles between Russian and Persian armies. Long ago it sank far below the surface of the sea in an earthquake but still the sturdy walls remain.

Underground canals extend more than 400 miles under the streets of Hamburg and Munich, Germany.

Fly Mathematics

Fly Can Become A Great, Great, Grandmother In Only A Few Weeks

A single female fly usually lays 600 to 1,000 eggs in her lifetime. Under favourable conditions these eggs hatch in ten or twelve days and there is an opportunity for seven or more generations in a season! In other words, this single fly can produce in only three generations, a few weeks apart, as many as one billion disease carrying microbes to health.

It is obvious that every effort should be put forth to destroy the first flies of the season. Each of the early flies killed means destruction of potential swarms.

As a menace to health, to say nothing of its disgusting loathsome, the fly is known to be a carrier of the germs of summer diarrhoea, typhoid and other serious diseases. And, although sanitation efforts have been instituted to curb many sources of contagious diseases, there has been little success in eradicating the common house-fly.

It is a matter requiring personal effort to keep the home clear of flies. The elimination of possible breeding places such as uncovered garbage, refuse, manure, rotting leaves, screens on doors and windows and covering of all foods, are all necessary precautions. But, should flies enter the home, a few Wilson's Fly Pads, used regularly according to directions, will kill them all in a few hours.

Build Another Road

Highway From McMurray To Goldfields Is Projected

First link in a proposed winter road from McMurray, Alta., to Goldfields, Sask., on Lake Athabasca, a seven-mile highway will be constructed north from McMurray along the Athabasca river, Hon. W. A. Falow, Alberta minister of public works announced.

Docks would be built at the end of the seven-mile stretch, being built to avoid the necessity of handling freight by portage past rapids in the river at low water periods.

"I am still determined to get a road through to serve the Goldfields area as soon as possible," Mr. Falow said. He added such a road was essential to the mining development of the north for which Edmonton is the natural gateway.

"Daddy!" exclaimed the little boy. "One more question, then," sighed the tired father. "Only one."

"How far is it," inquired the tot, "between to and fro?"

The letter "o" is used more than any other in the English language.

Little Helps For This Week

Father, if Thou be willing, remove this cup from me; nevertheless, not my will, but Thine be done. Luke 22:42.

Just as Thou wilt is all that I Give me but this, the heart to be content. And if my wish is thwarted, to lie still. Waiting till puzzle and tilt pain are spent. And the sweet thing made plain which Thou Lord meant.

Let your will be one with His will, and be glad to be disposed of by Him. He will order all things for you. What can cross your will when it is one with His, on which all creation hangs and around which all things revolve? Keep your hearts clear of evil thoughts, for as they estrange the will from His will they will cloud the soul and hide Him from you. Whatever sets us in opposition to Him makes our will an intolerable interference in China last year by the three societies at work there than in any earlier year.

More Bibles For China

Two million copies of the scriptures were circulated in China in 1935 by the American Bible Society, according to a report received in New York from the China agency of the society. For the fifth year in succession more complete Bibles were put in circulation in China last year by the three societies at work there than in any earlier year.

CHAPTER XVI.—Continued

"That's kind of a crude description, but it'll have to do. Grab that hombie if you see him. Let the rest of us know. We don't want to stir up too much fuss. But we want—that cash!" he ended with sharp emphasis on each word.

They nodded, jerking their hats lower, hunching carriage belts, fixing a staryastar here and there. "Suppose we can't find him. What then?"

Link's eyes became brownish-grey pinpoints. "We'll find him."

"You mean we're to raid the bull town if necessary?"

Fleming turned his horse. "I'm going to ride down Main Street as if everything was all right, keeping my eyes peeled. Shootin' isn't a signal he's found, of course. Laverly, you and Shaw go around the other side and do like Waco says. The boys are goin' to it. It's crazy idea, maybe," he confessed. "But I aim to find that money if it's in Rawhide—and we've got reason to think it is!"

CHAPTER XVII.

The men scattered. Link built a cigarette, lipped and lighted it, then urged his mustang at a leisurely waddle down the main thoroughfare of Rawhide, sweltering in the heat.

Few persons were visible on the sidewalks, merely a scattering of ranchers come to town for supplies, and to visit the post office. "Hy, Link," one man hailed, carrying out the custom of the last seven months. "How's Fleming's Folly comin'?"

Another louder greeted audibly. "Don't reckon you'll hold water there, do yah, Link? Reckon you want that dam for a fort, to stand off creditors when they come a-gunnin'!"

The six-foot rider grinned—a little wryly, his keen eyes roving the street for a man in a checkered shirt. Also for Jackpot Mell. The gambler might step out of any door, round any building, for the show-down.

"Hy, Link!" Matt Benson called as if reading his very thoughts "Mell's lookin' for yuh."

He took out his sixgun and examined it carefully, spinning the cylinder and testing the trigger spring. By no means a professional gunman like his opponent, he nonetheless had had some experience defending himself. Link knew he was fast on the draw, but there was grave doubt in his mind whether he was fast enough when pitted against a professional killer like Mell.

He shrugged his shoulders. There was no way out of it. He would do his best, and the result must be left to fate.

Dismounting before Sam Pickett's store, he tied his mustang at the hitchrail, ducked underneath, and strode with jingling spurs across the board sidewalk. A number of customers were in the store, all known to him at least by sight. The holdup was not there.

Link beckoned Pickett aside. He spoke in a tone so low that the grey-haired groceryman leaned to catch it. "Seen a heavy-set chap in here with corduroys and a checkered shirt?"

Sam shook his head. "None. What's his name? Want him, Link?"

He touched the butt of his gun significantly. "I wish you wouldn't mention this. I'm not sure of his name but I want him, yes. Let me know if he comes in, will you?"

Puzzled, the storekeeper rubbed an eyebrow and nodded. "Sure."

Link turned away. Answering as briefly as possible the greetings of the customers, he sauntered out of the place. As he stepped over the threshold he paused for a sharp look up and down the street. It was necessary to keep a keen vigilance for Jackpot.

His errand repeated in Thomas's hardware store and the dingy Old-time Saloon was equally fruitless. In the latter place he discovered Laverly just ordering a drink. From the steady look in his rider's eyes Fleming knew the wanted man had not been found.

The next building in line was the Half Moon. He shifted his gun belt as he slowly he approached the place. This was Mell's hangout.

As the door flapped behind him he gave a quick look around. Mell was not present. He stepped to the bar, ordered a drink, and made a more detailed survey. Five men were settling up a card game at a wall table. Two others stood near Link at the bar. Gus, the rotund server, clapped a glass before him and filled it. As he was slipping the liquid, someone touched his arm.

He turned slowly to find Buzz Hamilton, wearing a queer, harried look. "Link, yuh got that steer money? Here's a note that says yuh should run our share over to me." He produced a slip of paper and tendered it.

The message was brief and business-like, signed by Helen, requesting that he hand the Triple H share to Buzz. Fleming gave the paper back.

"I haven't the cash right now. Had it, but I got robbed. Sh! Don't spread it, Buzz—I trailed one of the hombes to town," he whispered swiftly. "The other's lyin' out near Junction with a slug in his head."

The ex-cov's heavy eyes, heavy with drink, gleamed in suspicion. "Yuh can't stall me, Fleming!"

There was open hostility between them, but the manner of each man was subdued. "I'm not stalling," Link said. "It's God's truth, yuh should stall? You're due the money, and I want my share."

Just then Roper Kilgo entered from the rear. "Hy, Buzz, you got the cash?" Then I'll tear up this money of yours. I bet the guy to play cards for paper. I want hard cash."

Fleming looked at Buzz. "What does he mean, 'transfer'?"

His hands closed until the knuckles showed white. "I've got to have that money before noon, and it's up to you to get it to me. That note proves it. Bring me the cash before noon." He insisted with keen anxiety showing through his arrogance. "I've got to have it before twelve."

Link started to ask "What for?" but with a final insistent gesture young Hamilton made for the table at which Kilgo had seated himself.

"They been playin' cards. Buzz told," Gus, the bartender, whispered. "They play all night, by golly!"

A look of surprise made him lean across the bar. "Buzz, he give Kilgo some kind of baber, and he's drinkin'—plenty!"

Fleming chanced to catch Roper's eye and the rancher indicated that he should sit down. "Come on, have a drink," he invited with a lordly air, rolling a thick black cigar between his lips.

"Reckon not, thanks."

It was more than likely a crude attempt to trap him, of course, that suave invitation. Jackpot Mell was certain to enter sooner or later, but Link preferred the shooting, if there was one, to take place outdoors rather than in the Half Moon.

"Aw," Buzz sneered in reply to something Roper said, "he claims he ain't got the money right now. Got to get a check cashed or something."

At any rate Hamilton had kept the secret. Link paid for his drink, preparing to leave. As he handed back change Gus whispered to him: "Watch yore step, Link. He's loogin' for yuh!"

"Thanks," Fleming strode out alone. Just then a two-seater buggy drew up to the hitchback before Pieper's bar and he recognized Helen Hamilton alighting. She saw him at the same moment and beckoned.

"Is Buzz in there?" was her opening question as he approached reluctantly.

"Yes."

She frowned and moistened her cherry-red lips, looking up at him. "Could you—that is, would you—make him come out? Oh," she hurried on, "Buzz said he had an important matter to attend to in town. That was last night, just after Roper left. I—I went to bed, but this morning I discovered Buzz hadn't come back. I didn't find out till an hour ago, as I got up early and went to look at the dam. Then men insist they must have their money today," she added.

As Link nodded she stared downward with the toe of one shapelessly riding boot made little marks in the dust. "I know Buzz has been gambling. It's been in his blood. I've seen the longing in his face ever since he came home. Is he—drinking much?"

"Quite a bit."

Helen sighed. "Is Roper in there?"

"Yes. It might be hard to get Buzz out. They played poker all night. Where did he get the money, Helen?"

"He didn't have much. But, Link, I—I'm afraid. You see, I gave him power of attorney."

He started. "You did?"

"Yes. Roper said I should give Buzz more responsibility, that it would be the making of him. Why?"

The girl's wide eyes sought his, and when he did not answer at once she clutched his arm in apprehension. "Link! What has he done?"

"Well," came reluctantly, "he signed over your ranch to Roper on some kind of temporary scheme. For cash to play with, I reckon—a loan. He's in a rush for the steenmoney before noon." He glanced at his watch. It's eleven now. Must be, he reflected, Kilgo was fussy enough to the Buzz up in some trick agreement. Either he must pay back the money Roper loaned or, if he hasn't done it by noon, the Triple H changes hands!"

The girl's slender fingers went to her lips. "He couldn't!" she gasped, and turned to stare at the stolid front of the Half Moon.

"Yes, I reckon he could. It'd be legal, all right."

Waco Byrne was approaching, still some distance off. At sight of him Hatty started from another direction, and drew from a third. Helen touched Link's arm. "Well, you shipped the cattle, didn't you? Where's the money? We'll—we'll take up Roper's note."

"But why are you worried?" he questioned, delaying the truth as long as he dared. "If you and Roper are—well, suppose Kilgo does get possession of your spread? I mean, if you and Roper are to be—married. In this state a husband owns his wife's property anyhow."

He did not look at her as he spoke, and when he did lift his eyes, found her anxiety trebled. "But, Link," she waited, "Roper boasted to Jackpot Mell that he didn't intend to marry me! That he was—it was all Stephen rode past the spread this morning and told me."

"And now—now," she struggled, "he's going to get it by this agreement with Roper. Oh, why do you stand there?" the girl cried angrily. "Why don't you pay me the cattle money and get Buzz out of this mess? It's ours, isn't it? We're entitled to it, aren't we? Why don't you give it to me?"

The six-foot rider was almost in earshot, converging as they neared. Link swallowed hard, strove to meet her blazing eyes—but dropped his gaze to the road at his feet.

"Gosh, Helen, I would! Only I... I was held up by its gang!"
